BAILEY ATTACKED THE GIANT TRUSTS

Declares He Would Send Organizers and Operators to the Penitentiary

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Denuoning the doctrine of free admission into the country of raw material, Senator Bailey of Texas, in the Senate today savagely attacked the trusts, asserting the only means of destroying them is to send their organizers and operators to the penitentiary. He said: "The doctrine of free raw material is unjust and undemocratic. Instead of being policy of the Democratic party it was never accepted until 1886. When tariff is removed from raw materials, it becomes necessary to increase the tariff on other articles in order to raise revenue. If I were attorney general of the United States I'd sue to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation. The only means of destroying the trusts and preventing the formation of others is to send their organizers and operators to the penitentiary."

MRS. WONG SUN YUE HAPPY WITH CHINK

Would Rather be Killed by a Chinese Than Tortured by Howard Gould

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—"I would rather be cut in pieces and put in a trunk by a Chinese husband than tortured in court by a white husband like Howard Gould," was the astounding statement made today by Mrs. Clemens-Wong, the sister of Katherine Gould, and wife of Wong Sun Yue, a Chinese merchant of this city.

After four years of a "Chinese honeymoon" Mrs. Wong pronounced her Chinese husband ideal. Her marriage to Wong took place after great family opposition, and occasioned National comment. Mrs. Wong refused to discuss the Sigel murder but freely expressed her opinion of her sister's marital troubles as above.

"I would a thousand times rather be the wife of a Chinese than such a man as Howard Gould. The Chinese worship his wife, whether white or yellow, which is more than can be said of the average American. The Chinese cares for his wife. I am happy in my home and my husband is gentle and considerate, and an excellent provider."

Trial of Soda Company's Suit Against Precht is on Today

Judge Oster of San Bernardino with a jury is in the superior court here today hearing the evidence in the suit of the Pacific Coast Soda Co. against R. L. Precht of Orange. The purpose of the plaintiff is to compel Precht to pay for $1000 worth of stock in the company.

He testified that an agent came to him and represented that there was hardly any more stock to be had, and Precht should buy at once. Precht agreed to sign at once in order to hold the stock, but stipulated that should his wife not agree with him in taking the stock that the signature should not hold good. The agent accepted the stipulation and Precht signed up for $1000 in stock.

Scarborough & Forgery represent he plaintiff and Montgomery & Tarver and L. M. Hartwick the defendant.

On the jury are W. J. Cheney, R. B. Wardlaw, A. Pirie, D. W. Gruell, L. N. Gardiner, Addison Rusk, D. W. Ellis, W. S. Lindsey, W. L. Duggan, Bert Annin, William Boyer and F. R. Aldrich.

MAY TRY TO REPEAL LAWS PASSED IN LAST SESSION

Cigarette Law is Protested—
Some Solons Wish Speedy
Adjournment

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 24.—The house insurgents at their caucus last night resolved to introduce an unlimited number of bills other than those covering the purposes for which the special session was called.

They are of the opinion that the speakership fight will throw down the doors and an attempt will be made to repeal bills passed at the recent session, especially the law prohibiting cigarette smoking, over which protests are arising.

Many, however, wish to confine all business to the insurance commissioner's office and other state office investigations.

BANK WRECKER HAS FINANCIAL SCHEME

Bartlett of San Francisco, under permission of the court and the approval of his former depositors, today announced the organization of a new $5,000,000 trust company, which will take over the affairs of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company of San Francisco, whose failure led Bartlett to the courts on a criminal charge.

NEW MARRIAGE LAW TOMORROW

State Board of Health Certificate to be Filled Out by County Clerk

Tomorrow the new marriage law goes into effect, and any young man who goes to the office of County Clerk Williams without knowing his prospective mother-in-law's name will get no license until that information and other information equally as important is forthcoming. Under the new law the certificate that in the past has been made out by the minister or judge performing the ceremony must be made out by the county clerk.

If the woman in the case is a widow, grass or sod, the man applying for the license must know what her maiden name was.

The law does not require that the woman be present when the license is secured, but inasmuch as there are several questions concerning her people that must be answered, it is more than likely that the law will work out by bringing into the office both the man and the woman. At any rate, he who takes the girl to the courthouse with him will be playing quite safe. If he takes her mother and father and his mother and father also, and the grandparents, too, if they are living, any question that the county clerk or his deputy might propound could be answered right off the bat.

Sullivan was running near his training quarters in the moonlight, when a highwayman halted him. Sullivan then landed a few blows and the footpad sprinted.

Ford car No. 1, which will finish third is reported to have passed through the Snoqualmie pass at day-break this morning and should arrive here this afternoon.

PARSONS FOR CREDITORS BRINGS SUIT

Assigned $20,000 in Notes;
Starts Action Against the Cannery Stockholders

COMPLAINT NUMBERS FIFTY-SIX PAGES

Owners of Stock in Huntington
Beach Plant Sued on Statutory Liability

The troubles of the creditors and stockholders of the Huntington Beach Canning, Pickling & Produce Co. have been crystallized into a procedure that will end their differences and put the cannery in position to work out its own salvation with clean hands. Today Joseph G. Parsons of Talbert, to whom $20,000 in claims has been assigned, brought suit in the superior court against twenty-six stockholders of the company. A suit against stockholders of smaller liability will be brought in a justice's court.

When the cannery was formed a large share of the stock was subscribed by lowlands ranchers and residents of Huntington Beach. A man named Frei was manager, and his reckless methods soon had the cannery head over heels in debt. Settlements were attempted, but failed.

Recently the creditors assigned their claims to Parsons. The First National Bank of Huntington Beach had a $5000 note, W. T. Newland had a $3000 note, and there were others, the total reaching $20,000.

The object of the suit is to compel each stockholder to stand his pro rata of the debts, the suit being to reach the stockholders on their statutory liability.

The complaint is voluminous, comprising fifty-six typewritten pages. Williams & Ruten appear as attorneys for the plaintiff.

Altorre, for years a trusted employee in the registry department of the postoffice, was arrested early yesterday afternoon by United States Marshal Leo Youngworth, charged with stealing the $30,000 which was mailed by the First National Bank of Los Angeles to be sent to a bank in Bisbee, June 12. The warrant was served following the return of an indictment against Altorre by the Federal Grand Jury. The prisoner was taken to the city jail, after being put through a thorough examination by postal inspectors at the postoffice. He declares his innocence.

EAST NEWPORT RAPIDLY COMING INTO HER OWN

One of the Most Attractive and Substantial Resorts on the Entire South Pacific Coast

A visit to East Newport reveals a gratifying state of affairs. All up and down the "sandspit," beautiful cottages and even handsome residences are being erected—dozens of them now in course of construction, and others planned for the near future. Public improvements, too, are in progress in quantity and quality fully commensurate with the growing and prospective requirements of health and pleasure. These include provisions for gas, extended and improved electric service and water supply and distribution, sidewalks and roads, boating and bathing facilities, tennis courts, etc., etc.

East Newport has never been a "boom" beach. Its management and development have been along the most substantial and conservative lines. The owners have depended upon its exceptional, and in some respects unique attractiveness and advantages. Principal of these is that East Newport provides both surf and still water at every man's door. The ocean is on one side and the beautiful Newport Bay on the other, and only a few steps from any house to either water front.

The character of the improvements, with respect to attractiveness and substantiality or architecture and construction is one of the good points about East Newport; and this is at once the effect and the cause of the high character of the people who make this charming resort their summer home.

Orange county will yet have cause to be proud of East Newport as an asset and as an expression of her social and physical ideals.

AUTO RAN OVER DAZED MAN SUNDAY

Flagg and Stafford in Machine That Passed Over Valenzuela

J. W. Flagg and E. P. Stafford and their wives had an experience with a "dazed" man named Jesus Valenzuela, at Anaheim Sunday afternoon. Both front and rear wheels of the buzz wagon passed over the body of the man. The accident occurred on Center street. Valenzuela had no bones broken, and is getting along well.

The auto was driven by J. W. Flagg and contained Mr. and Mrs. Flagg and E. P. Stafford and wife and their two children, all of Santa Ana. The auto was running slowly at the time, proceeding west, while Valenzuela, who was on a bicycle and seemingly in a dazed condition, was going east. When he saw the auto approaching, he turned into the street to elude it, instead of turning out of harm's way in the other direction. Immediately following to the right of the auto was another machine, and Valenzuela, seeing he was about to be run into by it, reversed his course and turned directly in the course of the nearest machine.

Flagg applied the brake immediately, but even though he was running slowly was unable to come to a standstill in time to prevent a collision. Valenzuela's wheel was struck and he was knocked to the ground. The forward wheel of the auto bumped over him, passing in the region of the shoulder and neck. The wheel turned him over, and as he lay upon his back the rear wheel went over his breast.

Valenzuela was taken into the shade, and Stafford summoned a physician.

Flagg is not blamed by anyone for the accident. On Wednesday Stafford settled with Valenzuela by paying him $50, the doctor's bill, a month's wages and for repairing the bicycle.

MOTHER COLONY PIONEER HURT

Man Who Named Anaheim Had Fall While Descending Mount McKinley

Anaheim Gazette.—Theodore E. Schmidt is lying at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Bullard of Los Angeles, suffering painful injuries as the result of a fall sustained by him in Elysian Park Wednesday afternoon last. While descending Mount McKinley, the highest peak in the park, his footing slipped on the grass, and he fell a distance of forty feet down the hill. He received injuries about the hip, and was for a time unable to arise. It was with great difficulty he descended to the base of the hill and going to the nearest carline proceeded to his daughter's house, which he reached two hours after his fall. Physicians were called and his injuries attended to. No bones were broken and apart from a severe shaking up and painful bruises, no permanent injury was sustained. Yesterday he was reported resting and it is hoped he will soon be out again.

Mr. Schmidt, despite his 84 years, is a great pedestrian and spends much of his time taking long walks. It was while on a trip of this kind that he met with the accident.

He is one of the only four remaining pioneers of Anaheim, having been one of the original incorporators of the colony enterprise in 1857. He was a prosperous San Francisco merchant before coming to Anaheim, and to him belongs the honor of bestowing the name "Anaheim" upon the colony. He resides in this city, but for some weeks past has been stopping with his daughter in Los Angeles, while Dr. Bullard is in Boston.

TWO HIGHWAYS THAT ARE BADLY NEEDED

Commenting on the extensive good roads plan just formed by San Diego county, the Riverside Enterprise says:

"Two main highways, running from San Diego city to the northern limits of the county to connect with the Los Angeles good roads system, are planned by the San Diego highways commission, in a report just adopted by the supervisors of that county, calling for the expenditure of $1,250,000 for 488 miles of "good roads." The through roads northward include an interior and a coast route. The coast line follows the road now generally followed through Oceanside to the Orange county line. The inland highway passes through Escondido and Temecula to Riverside county line.

"It is up to Riverside and Orange county now to take steps to provide for closing the gap between these proposed two fine highways in San Diego county and the Los Angeles county highways, which are to be improved under a $3,500,000 bond issue. The two roads are commonly used now by autoists in the San Diego run, and when improved by macadam surface will make the longest stretch of class A road in the state. Twenty main routes in San Diego will be improved if the plans of the highway commission are carried out, connecting every town of importance in the entire county and providing an excellent interior route to Imperial Valley. An election to vote bonds probably will be held August 3."

EXPOSITION OFFERS SUNSTROKES TO NONE

SEATTLE, June 23.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle may be seen at any time during the summer months without fear of sunstroke. The glaring heat that made mid-day promenading all but impossible at previous expositions is unknown in the far Northwest where the latest of World's Fairs is swinging merrily along with success written in every feature. It is sunny, bright and summery at Seattle, but the unholy thought of Hades is not suggested by the extreme so many Americans have become habituated to during July and August.

When the thermometer reads 75 it is warm—yes, hot—to the citizens of the Exposition city. Located on an arm of the sea—the famous Puget Sound—this western metropolis received full benefit from the ocean currents and the refreshing sea breezes. Three lakes are included in its boundaries and their cool depths fed from the snow-crowned mountains, freshen the air and make it wholesome and sweet.

Mountain ranges surround the amphitheatre in which this latest world's congress is being held, and their melting snow runs into streams that rush down rock-lined gorges to make the tranquil river that flows in and about Seattle.

There need be no long search for shade. This Puget Sound country was a solid forest when the pioneers invaded it with axe and saw, and the march of civilization has far from destroyed all of the mighty forest of primeval days. One of the predominating features of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition's landscape beauty is the much-talked-of skyline of fir trees, towering above the classic buildings with their turrets, towers and monster domes.

The Exposition management wisely left these trees wherever it was not absolutely necessary to remove them, and they separate and surround the buildings in such a way as to make them cool and inviting. The glare that generally attends the courts of a World's Fair has been largely obliterated by using the color of old ivory instead of white, as heretofore employed.

There are shady walks through bits of forest in various parts of the grounds, and beautiful picnicking spots abound on the shores of Lake Washington, at the Exposition's boundaries.

As welcome to easterners and southerners the exposition itself is the mildness of the climate. Here it is sunny enough by day to bring out the gaiety of summer dresses, an yet cool enough by night for the tired sight-seeker to sleep soundly.

There are no mosquitoes or other annoying insects to disturb a night's rest. But the sun comes up over the Cascades so cheerily in the morning

ORANGE COUNTY IS GOOD ENOUGH

From Sacramento comes a significant note for those Long Beachers who think of going abroad for real estate investments. It has to do with the lands of the Sacramento valley. An investigation has been started that has for its object the breaking up of the practice of misrepresenting to prospective purchasers the value of certain tracts of land in that valley. It seems to have been the habit of dealers to over-state the productiveness of the lands, and the various kinds of products it is suited for. This naturally results in dissatisfaction on the part of purchasers, and injures the business of legitimate dealers.

This calls to mind that peculiarity of human nature which is always inclined to imagine that just over yonder are opportunities that do not exist at home, and is therefore ready to give credence to any rumors of such conditions, with the result that good things at home are overlooked and disastrous investments elsewhere are made. The fake dealer has learned this tendency and works it for all it is worth, and it is worth a good deal to him.

This is the same peculiarity that is frequently manifested to such a startling degree in mining camps in the shape of a "stampede," as it is called. And that is a good name for it.

People become "rainbow chasers" but never find the "pot of gold."

Orange county has every real and safe opportunity to satisfy the demands of investors from the millionaire to the man on salary. And furthermore do you not see that the millionaires are improving these opportunities and incidentally improving the county? Is it to be supposed that these men are mistaken in their estimates of the future of this county? Or that they are ignorant of the conditions elsewhere when they put their money here? Certainly not. It may then be asked, "What is the matter with Orange county?" The Sacramento Valley may be good but Orange county is better, especially for the investor who is posted on Orange county property, but all at sea on property elsewhere.

DON'T BE TOO HARD ON TARIFF TINKERERS

A good deal of criticism is being indulged in these days by some of our Southern California papers on the manner in which the tariff is being revised. The complaint is that the schedules are being raised instead of lowered as they should be.

It is probable that some of this criticism is well deserved, but it simply shows that each section of the country wants protection for the products it has for sale, but does not like to pay the tribute necessary in order to protect the products of other sections. For instance, you do not read of any objections being made to the increase of the tariff on lemons, and this though the country does not produce half of the lemons it uses. Under the McKinley bill the duty on lemons was 25 cents a box, under the Wilson bill it was 30 cents, under the Dingley bill 80 cents, under the Payne bill $1, and it is now raised by the senate finance committee to $1.20. This of course has made a great stir in the east, because the people there are the ones who have to pay the added price, but out here we accept it as nothing but our due, and no doubt some of us think is should be higher. It is probably far above the average of the protected industries, yet these critical newspapers do not complain or contend that the tariff should be revised downward so far as lemons are concerned. Such revision should apply strictly to the protected products of other sections and not to the one in which we have the good fortune to reside.

The tariff is an exceedingly complicated affair and very few are qualified to speak of it authoritatively. It deals with thousands of articles and with the relations of these articles to the commerce of the world. It presents problems that the wisest cannot solve even to their own satisfaction, and much of it is necessarily guess work. But we must in all our discussions of it keep steadily in mind the fact that protection has worked wonders for the whole country, and be cautious in condemning it as applied to particular cases. It has built up our cities to a point where they consume everything the country produces, thereby raising the agricultural classes from the slough of despond to the pinnacle of prosperity, just what the Republican leaders promised it would do.

As showing how little even authorities actually know of the economic conditions dealt with by the tariff, reference is made to a statement about fifteen years ago by D. A. Wells, in his work on "Recent Economic Changes," to the effect that at that time, (which was a period of great agricultural depression,) it was the opinion of the best authorities in Europe and the United States, that the only possible future for farming was in large farms backed by great capital and worked by machinery. And yet today the most independent and profitable business in the United States, taking the actual investment into account, is that of the small farmer. These prophets of evil did not know what protection was going to do for the country. We ourselves can only judge by the past, which reminds us not to quarrel with our bread and butter by saying too much against the work of the senate in boosting American industries by affording them ample protection, even though some of those industries are not in California.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

—by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FUNERAL OF MISS LULU COLLINGS YESTERDAY

A very large attendance of people from Fullerton and Orange, as well as from Santa Ana, at the funeral of Miss Lulu Collings, held yesterday afternoon at the family residence at 118 West Nineteenth street, showed the wide acquaintance of the deceased and the esteem in which she was held. Lovely floral pieces from the high school of Fullerton, and the various classes, as well as from the First Methodist church at that place, were supplemented by flower pieces from Orange and Santa Ana. Among those sent from here were beautiful designs from the Board of Education and the First Methodist church of Santa Ana.

Rev. Embree, pastor of the First Methodist church of Fullerton, conducted the services, and the pall bearers were pupils from the Fullerton high school, Messrs. Lawrence, Scholtz, Fulverson, Henderson, Knowlton, Elliott, Mrs. Pearce and Mrs. Winbiger sang "Rock of Ages" and "Crossing the Bar," with Mrs. Snow accompanying.

JOY IS REALTY AND MINING OPERATOR

JUDGMENT ENTERED BY PARTIES' CONSENT

Judgment by consent of the litigants has been entered in the supreme court in the appeal case of L. N. Brooks against Zaida Jones and Blanche Hurd, whereby the defendants get all they claimed. Brooks owned several lots at Laguna Beach. The defendants each owned one lot. It was a question as to whether or not Brooks should get a strip in front of the defendants, cutting them from the water front.

The government instead of running its lines to the water's edge stopped some distance away, and Brooks claimed to the water's edge. Judgment in the lower court was against him, not only cutting him off from the frontage claimed by the two defendants but also from frontage claimed by Childs, who was not a party to the suit. By the judgment by consent, the defendants get all they claim, and so far as they are concerned they allow judgment as to Brooks' claim to land claimed by Childs.

Victor Montgomery represented Brooks and E. E. Keech the defendants.

REV. MATT HUGHES IS ABLE, FORCEFUL MAN

In regard to Rev. Matt Hughes, who is to deliver the commencement address to the Santa Ana High school tomorrow evening, the following letter has been written by Rev. Secombe, pastor of the First Congregational church:

Supt. J. A. Cranston, Santa Ana, Cal., Dear Brother: I wish to congratulate you upon the choice of the Rev. Matt. Hughes, D. D., of Pasadena, to deliver the commencement address before the graduating class of the high school. Dr. Hughes, before coming west, was pastor of one of the largest Methodist churches in Minneapolis, which position he filled with great credit. He is one of the ablest preachers in Southern California, greatly in demand for lectures and special addresses and you are fortunate to secure him for this occasion. Very sincerely yours, CHARLES H. SECOMBE.

FOUND THE MONEY AND THE OWNER

Three pieces of paper money blew along Main street yesterday, and today the owner saw them again. First Constable Jackson spied an attractive bit of paper. He picked it up and it was a $1 bill. Then H. R. Bristol spied a familiar color, which turned out to be a bill worth $2. J. A. Smiley reached into the gutter and drew out $10.

Bristol and Smiley assigned their funds to Jackson, who advertised the finds. Today the owner was discovered, Mrs. Wilcox, who lives at 2409 North Main street. A young lady cashed a check for her yesterday and had just left Fourth street when the money floated away.

MACARONI PACKAGE BASIS OF A REPORT

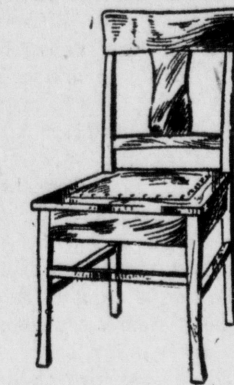

A dispatch received yesterday from San Francisco stated that the monthly bulletin of the State Board of Health gave the names of firms accused of exposing adulterated goods for sale, and among them was the Santa Ana Produce Co. Inquiry today at the produce company showed that the company had not been taken into court on the charge made against it, and the company thought the charge had been dropped. On March 8 Frank Oakley, deputy state pure food inspector, bought a package of macaroni at the Santa Ana Produce Co. This package was marked for weight at one pound. The inspector found it short of a pound. The matter was turned over by the produce company to the macaroni makers, who claimed that the package weighed a pound when it left the factory but had dried out sufficiently since then to reduce the weight.

First Band Concert

The first band concert of the 1909 summer season was given last night at Birch Park by the Columbia Band, with great success and before a crowd that was large, considering the many counter attractions.

The music rendered by the band was of decided class and proved popular with the audience. Two of the favorite numbers were a medley of sacred airs and one of old melodies. The latter was especially pleasing, and won enthusiastic applause. During the playing of "Dixie" the clapping was continuous, and when the band sang "Old Black Joe," to the orchestral accompaniment their hearers were delighted.

That the next concert will be largely attended is a certainty, as the fame of the fine music given last night is sure to spread.

DO YOU WANT TO BECOME A BOOSTER?

Well, if you do, you must follow a few instructions—viz: Your liver must be in good working order; you must never have a grouch; you must be optimistic and never a pessimist; you must look at the silvery lining of every cloud. You must boost for your friends and boost for your enemies. You must boost for your competitors and ignore the knockers. Besides these few rules, you must tell people to trade all they can with home merchants, and especially with my bosses for anything you want in their line.

Would perhaps quit advertising were it not that we like to "see the name in print" and then if we don't blow our own horn that particular horn might not be blown and if our horn ain't blown there would be less music in the world. So to keep the fun again we continue to advertise, that is we blow for the Kansas Tin Shop.

The Kansas Tin Shop is "doin' bizness" every day ceptin' Sunday and a few of the holidays with which this state is favored. We are not only buying and selling and trying to corral a few nickels wherewith to keep our several heads dry when it rains out of doors, and against that day when we shall have no use for the nickels. It would be real funny to see everybody trying for the same thing if it was not so pathetic, and still we, that is, the Kansas Tin Shop and those numerous Tanners and Plumbers keep on Plumbing and Tinning and it will probably be so to the end of the chapter.

A SQUARE DEAL ANDTSHAINUN A Square Deal and a Square Meal —Here's a square deal for the people who can't eat a square meal without after pain and distress. Go to Rowley's Drug Store today and get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na tablets; the great prescription for indigestion and stomach troubles. Take one, or if you suffering is intense, two tablets with or after meals, and at the end of 10 days if you can't eat a square meal without distress go to Rowley's and get your money back. That's where the square deal comes in. But Mi-o-na is really a stomach up-builder of great merit; every day the makers receive more than a dozen letters from grateful people, which state that after losing hope Mi-o-na cured. The quick and positive action of Mi-o-na on the stomach in the case of gas, waterbrash, sour stomach and heartburn is worth a lot of money to any sufferer. E. D. Howe, Gardner, Mass., says: "I suffered from severe pains in my stomach. I tried different remedies without relief; after using two boxes of Mi-o-na I found myself completely cured." Mi-o-na is sold by leading druggists.

WHEN JUDGE MEETS JUDGE

Matter of Damages to Justice's Rig May be Settled Out of Court

Anaheim Gazette: Judge Howard was leisurely speeding along the Olive road on Monday, headed for home after having transacted a matter of business at the mill, when he beheld two rigs in the offing straightway ahead. One of the rigs was coming to town, the other was going. As they met they came to a full stop. At this instant the judge was about to be upon them. He threw off the clutch, applied the brakes, and tore up the road for a distance of several rods in a vain attempt to stop his roadster. It was all of no avail. He struck the rear wheel of the rig in front of him, breaking several spokes. Following the rule of the road, which seems to place all the culpability for such accidents upon the auto man, the judge descended from his machine, and approaching the shattered rig, expressed regret for the accident and offered to pay for the necessary repairs. "I am Judge Howard of Anaheim," he modestly said. "I am Judge Lempke of Yorba," replied the other, "and if there are any damages to pay I insist upon paying them myself." "Pardon me, my dear judge," responded the former, "but I desire to interpose a demurrer. I propose to pay for all damages herein sustained, and if you say another word you will be in contempt of court." Judge Lempke raised his hat. Judge Howard made a polite bow, and both gentlemen resumed their journey.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

A BOWLDER BRIDGE. Probably Placed in Position by an Ancient Cloudburst. One of the most remarkable freaks of wind and erosion known in the west is to be found in one of the smaller side canyons of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado river in Arizona. In a narrow gorge, carved through centuries of flow of water and wind driven sand down the little valley, there lies a huge bowlder as big as the average house moving var seen on a city street. It is held up solely by friction on the sides of the gorge and is entirely free from any solid connection with the sides of the sandstone walls. From the sandy bed of the little gorge to the rock is fully seventy-five feet. The Indians who once roamed over the Grand canyon country have, of course, legends to account for the location of the big round rock, but as a matter of fact it is believed to have rolled off the slope of a rocky and precipitous mountain about five miles distant from the canyon and to have been picked up in the path of some cloudburst years ago and rolled to its present resting place. The stone hangs only by a small projection on each side, but it is so solid that it forms a convenient footbridge across the gorge over which the pedestrian may take his way.—Kansas City Journal.

WATERPROOF FABRICS. There Are Several Methods by Which They Are Treated. Fabrics are waterproofed by impregnating them with metallic salts, by coating them with oil, grease and wax, by coating them with india rubber or by treating them with ammoniacal solutions of copper. The first process is applied to sailcloth. The canvas is impregnated with alum or calcium acetate and then immersed in a fixing bath containing soap, which forms insoluble lime or alumina soap in the cloth. The second process is used for raincoats, imitation leather, etc. The fabric passes between hot rollers and then over a cylinder of wax, etc. In the third process a solution of india rubber in carbon disulphide, chloroform or other solvent is applied. This process is used for mackintoshes and bathing caps and is applied to thread. In the fourth process, employed in the manufacture of bookbindings and Willesden canvas, cotton cloth is run through a solution of oxide of copper in ammonia, which dissolves the superficial layer and on evaporation leaves it in the form of a uniform coating of cellulose. The process is completed by passing the cloth between rollers. There are still other processes, but these are the most important.—Scientific American.

ONLY THREE DAYS MORE

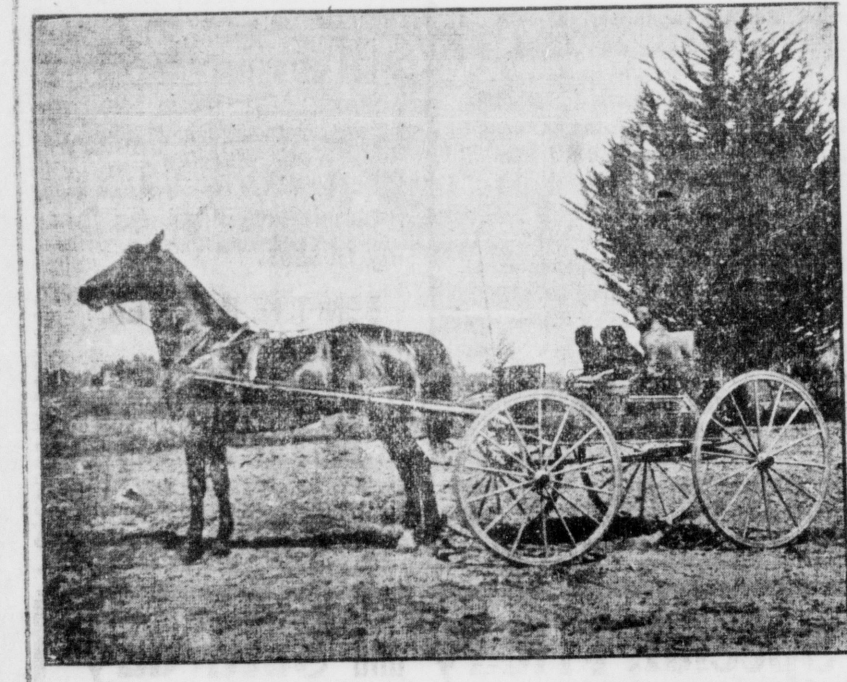

Liberal Offer of the Great Kamama Lasts Only Until June 26.

From the size of the crowds which are daily crowding the offices of the Great Kamama at the Rossmore Hotel, one would imagine that everyone in Santa Ana who is sick is hastening to take advantage of the liberal offer which has but three days more to run. An hour spent in the offices of this physician shows that the people of this city have faith in this medical expert. Two months ago Kamama was practically unknown here, but by his honest dealings and by the remarkable cures made with his European Methods, he has instilled into the minds of all the sick and afflicted the knowledge that they can be cured. There is a reason for the wonderful success of the Great Kamama in Santa Ana. As a diagnostician Kamama excels. When a patient comes into his presence, without a word from them, he describes and tells their aches and pains, and diseases, a great deal better than they can describe themselves. Having a thorough knowledge of their disease, he is able to prescribe the proper remedies to bring about a quick and permanent cure; and never before has there been such a campaign waged against disease in our midst; never before has there been such enthusiasm aroused, not only at the office of the Great Kamama at the Rossmore Hotel, but also at Fourth and Broadway, where thousands have congregated and watched the demonstrations, and saw the wonderful cures. All chronic diseases are treated by his methods and cured. Kamama has brought new preparations here, also the famous Syarhigill treatment, by which the use of the knife is done away with, in curing appendicitis and removing abnormal growths. By the terms of the offer made some time ago, all who call at Kamama's offices will be treated for the cost of the medicine alone, there being no charge for professional services except a charge of $1.00 for examination to those not holding consultation cards.—(Adv.)

His Kindly Act. In a Sunday school class recently the teacher sought to impress upon the small boys the virtue of kindly and helpful deeds. "Now," said she, "let every boy here try to do some kindness during the week and next Sunday report what he did." Next Sunday arrived, and the teacher proceeded to listen to stories of good deeds done. Finally she reached the smallest boy in the class. His age is nine. "Well, Willie," she said, "have you done any kindness for any one, anything really helpful, during the week?" "Yes'm." "What was it?" "I let another kid copy me 'rithmetic lesson off me book in school." A Billion. Great Britain clings to its own numerical system and regards a billion as a million times a million. But America differs, a billion in the United States being only a thousand millions. This is perhaps the only instance in which a thing is bigger in the old country than in the new. One has to go only a little way from England—to Calais—to find the billion lessened, for France dignifies a thousand millions with the name of billion. They are wasting a word in France in this connection, however, inasmuch as there is already a word, milliard, to designate this number.—Chicago Record-Herald. Caterpillars. The green and yellow tints so frequently to be found in caterpillars are stated to be due to coloring matter derived from their food and passed through the blood of the spinners. By impregnating leaves with artificial colors the experimenters caused some species of caterpillars to produce silk of bright orange yellow and fine rose hues. By the aid of the spectroscope the presence and nature of colored pigments in the blood of the little creatures were established.—London Tatler. A Postscript. Willie, aged five, had delivered a message from his mother to a lady, but did not seem in a hurry to go. Being asked if there was anything else his mother had bidden him say, he replied, "No, ma'am; only she said I wasn't to ask you for any cake, but if you gave me any I was to take it and thank you." He got the cake. Information. "Where do all you Americans live?" inquired the European. "About 4,000,000 of us live in New York," answered the caustic American. "And the rest of us live in caves."—Louisville Courier-Journal. Always there is a black spot in our sunshine. It is the shadow of ourselves.—Carlyle.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Valencia oranges are arriving in larger quantities right along. They are selling in Los Angeles at $2.25 a box. This price is lower than that of last year at the same time and can only be accounted for by the fact that fruit of deciduous character is smoothing the demand for citrus stock. In New York the best Valencias are bringing as high as $3.25 per box, but this is the maximum figure. Navels are slowly cleaning up and there are very few left on the trees at the present time. They are worth only about $1.85 for the best quality, while seconds are selling at $1 a box. The demand for lemons has been increasing just a trifle. Warm weather is the chief cause for this. Finest packed stock is selling at $2.25 a box. Seconds and culls sell down to $1. The call for grapefruit is exceedingly light. Limes from Mexico are still holding at $1 per hundred.

Eggs were very firm and all of the case counts sold yesterday brought 25 cents a dozen. Canned remained at 27 and selects at 29 cents. Eastern eggs still move at 25 cents, although the price on them is expected to rise. Receipts of locals were very light, 156 cases, which was the reason for the better figure on case count.

Butter was active and sold even with the board. Extras brought 5 1/2 cents, while firsts sold at 55. There was a fair demand for cooking stock and this was more firm than on the day previous. Receipts of butter totaled 18,166 pounds.

Eastern Longhorn and Daisy cheese was active. Oregon Daisy cheese also sold well. There were no changes in prices and receipts, unlike those in other commodities, were heavier than usual—7902 pounds.

Local potatoes still continue at their old price. Brokers and jobbers alike are complaining of the high price on spuds. They are at present paying $1.25 for potatoes in the field, which brings them up to $1.35 to $1.50 by the time they arrive in Los Angeles.

Eggs were very firm and all of the case counts sold yesterday brought Angeles. With the high prices existing, local dealers are still unable to compete with the Texas tubers that are shipped into Nevada and Arizona. A car of northern spuds found its way to the local market.

A car of Coachella Bermudas was received and sold upon arrival. The onions were of the usual fine stock. They brought an average of $1 per hundred. Lima beans were in good call. Pinks were well offered, but the demand for them was lacking.

Fruits were practically stationary. The call was lighter than on most of the other days of the week so far and prices were weak as a result. Peaches were about the only fruit that advanced and this owing to the fact that arrivals were light. The best yellow peaches were worth $1.25. Apricots sold from 50 cents up to 85. New apples were a trifle more plentiful and averaged $ a lug box on ordinary stock.

"A STRENUOUS LIFE" WAS SUCCESSFULLY PRESENTED

Graduates of '09 Achieved Honor in College Play—Well Known Singers Gave Great Pleasure

Oskey, wow, wow! Wiskey wee wee! Ole mucke-l! Ole Berkele-l! Californel!

Whee!

With dash and yell and a mix-up that was worth while, "James, the Freshie," was properly downed in the freshman scrimmage that was done realistically enough last night in the college play, "The Strenuous Life," to be the genuine article. And that scene was characteristic of the breeziness and naturalness with which the play, from start to finish, was presented on the Opera House boards by the high school graduating class of '09.

The immense audience, taxing the capacity of the Opera House auditorium from parquette to uppermost gallery, laughed and applauded through the entire evening just as it should have done, as the farcelet, whose author is Richard Walton Tully, and which is an American college play, was so well done as to lift the production clear out of the amateur class. Miss Allie Hallett Taylor, the director, may feel a genuine pride in the result achieved under her training.

Nugata, the "good, honest, intelligent Japanese school boy," impersonated by Albert Fields, was one of the triumphs of the evening. To the delicate saffron of his skin and the very slight of his eyebrows, not to mention the Oriental shuffle, Albert Fields was a real Celestial, who, notwithstanding his limited vocabulary of one word, "yis," managed to make considerable of an impression.

Harry Mills, as the harum-scarum, happy-go-lucky hero of innumerable scrapes, Tom Harrington, football captain, was as successful and lovable a scamp as even a more critical audience than the one of last night could desire to see and laugh at. His introduction of the Berkeley yell, "Oskey wow wow!" etc., as a ringing bit of supposed Greek speech, which he declaimed for his doing father with all the ardor of a Demosthenes, must have warmed the cockles of the heart of every "Varsity" man present.

Tom's chum, Reginald Black, played by Verne Baker, the staunch sort of chap, who stayed by his friend through all of his sorry pranks, only kicking when Tom alienated the girl of his heart. Mr. Baker looked and acted the part of the jolly, loyal friend to perfection, leading the freshman charge most valiantly.

William Everett James (a new professor from Stanford, a rival college) was so cleverly played by Raymond Waite as to be one of the star parts.

David Todd, as always, was right on the top round or success in his character part of Dan Davenant from the hills, giving the generous, rough old miner with real skill. Elmer Worthly as "James Woberts, Freshman," was a whole laugh-producing show in himself, whether as the pseudo Professor James, or the green boy who wanted to go home to mamma.

Byron Harrington, "father of his son," was skilfully depicted by Benton Blee, as the clean, prim, self-made man, proud of his son and more than a trifle ignorant of college lingo and college pranks.

Wm. Smart, who impersonated the dignified Prof. Magee, director of the "Gym," and Albert Hill, as a collector, fearfully and wonderfully made up, were both excellent.

Mrs. Wigginton Wiggins, who mourned alternately over the late lamented Wiggins, and the non-paying proclivities of her boarders, was played as "naturally as life" by Miss Elsie Morrow, and everybody thought old Dan Davenant was rather lucky to be caught in her matrimonial net. Miss Ruth Ware fairly danced away with the hearts of the audience, as well as the affections of James "Woberts," as she sparkled through the ingenue part of Dulcie Harrington. She was the dear little girl herself.

Miss Gladys Beckett as Marian Davenant, the sweet girl who won the soft heart of Lieutenant Thomas, was an attractive figure and played her part spiritedly. Ruth Thornton, as Mrs. Wiggins' niece, looked charming and made the most of the part, throwing much feeling into the passages where she mourned or raged over the supposed deception of her lover. Miss Mildred Mead well portrayed the Widow Maguire, whose principal accomplishments were a striking plaid shawl, a rich brogue and a mild determination to "stay" until she got her money.

Robert Whitson, Edwin Dessery, Andrew Smiley, Edgar Vanderlip, Elmer Preston, Tom Wotton, Dean Colver and Erwin Barnes were freshmen who aided and abetted Tom Harrington in his initiation of the persecuted Prof. James, whose mournful acceptance of the password and various signs of the secret society into which he was so strenuously inducted, was one of the funniest things of the play. In fact the whole play was full of laughs, and if you ask if it was a success, the Register can say in Nugata's closing word, "Yis!"

Of Roland Pauls' singing between acts, it can be said that it was most generously received by his audience, which encored him again and again. Mr. Pauls' voice is of beautiful quality and his singing was not only artistic but pleasing in its interpretative effect.

Showing his technical excellence in "Celeste Aida," the lovely aria from Verdi's Aida, Mr. Paul really more delighted his audience in his group of songs (a) "You Threw Me a Smile" (Ronald); (b) "Rockin' in de Win" (Nedlinger), and "Autumn" (Mat-tuaws), than in the more ambitious number. His Irish number and the flower song which he gave after receiving an immense bouquet of Easter lilies, sent him by the girls of the play, were exceptionally pleasing. But his singing of the sweet melody, "Rockin' in de Win" was one of his most attractive numbers.

The securing of Mr. Paul as an attraction was a happy hit, adding much to one of the most successful events ever put on the stage by the Santa Ana High School.

Another decidedly attractive feature of the evening was the fine music rendered by the orchestra under direction of Prof. Babize.

DELIGHTFUL DINNER AT ROSSMORE

Manager Forsythe Entertains M. & M. Directors and a Few Other Guests

Manager Forsythe of Hotel Rossmore served a most sumptuous banquet last evening to the directors of the Merchants & Manufacturers Association and a few other guests.

The table was set in the small dining room in the form of a T and covers were laid for some thirty-odd guests. Both room and table were beautifully decorated with asparagus ferns and carnations, and when the banqueters had taken their places the scene was full of charm and cheer.

The menu was varied and delicious and the service all that could be desired, a compliment not only to the chef and the hotel manager but to the young women who waited upon the tables.

The menu card was a special creation for the occasion and the dinner was referred to as "Just a Bite," but —well judge for yourself:

It is needless to say that the dinner was thoroughly enjoyed, gastronomically speaking, and when the cigars had been passed and lighted there came the usual post prandial "feast of reason and flow of soul."

Horace Head was toastmaster. He called first upon Mine Host Forsyth, who welcomed his guests and told of his plans for further improvements for Hotel Rossmore. This was fittingly responded to by President Trago of the M. & M. Association.

Then there were short talks, as the speakers were called upon, by C. S. Crookshank, Walter Tedford, Henry Rutherford, H. McPhee, L. M. Hopper, J. P. Baumgartner.

All the speakers expressed their pleasure in the improvements already wrought in the Hotel Rossmore, and their intention to co-operate heartily with Manager Forsyth in his plans for further improvement.

In addition to these mentioned above, there were seated at the banquet board: N. A. Ulm, E. A. White, C. P. Kryhl, W. N. Prince, Wm. Cochems, J. W. Tubbs, V. E. Blodgett, J. E. Liebig, Asa Vandermast, G. E. Shriver, Robert Paine, C. W. McNaught.
